Shipbuilding & Maritime

South Korea has long solidified its position as a key hub in the global shipbuilding industry, particularly excelling in high-value-added vessels. Alongside the growth of South Korea's shipbuilding sector, KORMARINE has emerged as one of the world's top four shipbuilding and maritime exhibitions, offering an ideal business platform to showcase cutting-edge technologies and expertise to the global market.

“

KORMARINE is an essential event for anyone in the shipbuilding industry, offering a valuable opportunity for companies to gather, exchange ideas, and receive real-time feedback. It's a great chance to stay informed about industry trends, engage with various companies, and identify which suppliers you need and how to proceed with your business activities.

BUYER INDUSTRY SECTOR

Future Fuels & Renewable Energy

KORMARINE has encompassed a wide range of fields centered around the shipbuilding and maritime industries, including future fuels and carbon-neutral technologies. As the global importance of carbon neutrality increases, we will introduce the new 'NEXT ENERGY' special pavilion in 2025. This pavilion will feature leading companies in the energy sector showcasing cutting-edge carbon-neutral technologies, fostering synergy between the shipbuilding, maritime industries, and future technologies.

“

It was exciting to see the latest eco-friendly products in the shipbuilding industry, especially the innovative renewable energy solutions. The exhibition highlighted carbon-neutral technologies and their potential to transform the sector. Discussions with company representatives offered valuable insights into advancing sustainability efforts.

WHY NEXT ENERGY?

Renewable energies and future fuels are expected to play a more significant role in achieving carbon neutrality by 2050. Collaborating with industry leaders, we spotlight the latest advancements in energy technology, fostering collaboration and knowledge exchange.
